

Missing from July 2010 Show

Dover showmark martingale last seen hanging on fence during the NWAHJA hunter under saddle class at the Pauline Whittaker show. It is square raised and fairly light in color. The yoke is thin, while the strap attaching to the girth is thick. The martingale is horse-sized with the girth strap let out almost all the way. Please check your trailers and contact martytucker@pgtc.com if you find any extra tack. Thanks.
